Fifth Congress of the United States

At the Third Session, begun and held at the City of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on Monday, the third of December, one thousand seven hundred and ninety eight.

AN ACT

To erect a Beacon on Boon Island.

BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury, under the direction of the President of the United States, be authorized, as soon as may be, to cause a beacon or monument to be erected on a ledge of rocks, called Boon Island, on the sea coast of the district of Maine; and that the sum of four hundred dollars be appropriated for the same, out of any monies in the Treasury, not otherwise appropriated.

JONATHAN DAYTON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JAMES ROSS,
President of the Senate, pro tempore.

Approved March 2, 1799.

JOHN ADAMS,
President of the United States.

AN ACT

To regulate and fix the compensation of Clerks.

Sec. 1. BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the Secretaries of the Treasury, State, War and Navy Departments, shall be, and hereby are authorized and empowered, to vary the compensations heretofore established for clerks in their respective departments, in such manner as the services to be performed shall, in their judgment, require; any thing in any former act to the contrary notwithstanding. Provided always, that the whole amount of compensations for clerks, in the said departments, respectively, shall not exceed the following sums; that is to say: For the Department of State, five thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars: For the Treasury Department, forty two thousand six hundred and twenty dollars, and thirty four cents, that is to say, in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury, five thousand eight hundred and thirty nine dollars and eighty one cents; in the office of the Comptroller of the Treasury, nine thousand and sixty seven dollars and eight cents; in the office of the Auditor of the Treasury, eight thousand eight hundred and ten dollars and ninety three cents; in the office of the Treasurer of the United States, two thousand eight hundred and seventeen dollars and forty five cents; in the office of the Commissioner of the Revenue, two thousand eight hundred and forty three dollars and six cents; and in the office of the Register of the Treasury, thirteen thousand two hundred and forty two dollars and one cent: For the Department of War, fifteen thousand three hundred and forty dollars, that is say; in the office of the Secretary of the said department, six thousand three hundred and forty dollars; in the office of the Accountant of the said department, eight thousand five hundred dollars; and in the office of the Purveyor of Public Supplies, five hundred dollars: For the Department of the Navy, eleven thousand one hundred dollars; that is to say; in the office of the Secretary of the department of the Navy, four thousand two hundred dollars: and in the office of the Accountant of the Navy department, six thousand nine hundred dollars.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the Post Master General of the United States, shall be, and hereby is authorized and empowered to appoint such number of clerks in his office, as he shall judge proper, and to apportion and vary their compensations in such a manner as the services to be rendered by each, shall in his judgment require: Provided always, that the whole amount of compensations for clerks in the said office, shall not exceed the sum of four thousand two hundred and fifty dollars, annually; which sum shall be paid quarterly, out of the revenues of the Post Office.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the Director of the Mint shall be, and hereby is authorized to allow to one of the clerks employed in his office, the sum of two hundred dollars per annum, in addition to the salary of five hundred dollars, heretofore established for the clerks in the said office.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That there shall be allowed to the Secretary and Accountant of the Navy department respectively, in the settlement of their accounts, the following sums for deficiencies in the provisions made by law for their clerks during the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety eight; that is to say; to the said Secretary, eight hundred and eighty seven dollars and twenty nine cents; and to the said Accountant, one hundred and eighty eight dollars, and thirty two cents.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That there shall be allowed to the Commissioners of Loans in the states of Massachusetts and New York, respectively, not exceeding five clerks, at the rate of five hundred dollars per annum, each; to the Commissioner of Loans in the state of Connecticut, not exceeding two clerks, at the rate of four hundred dollars per annum, each; to the Commissioners of Loans in the states of Pennsylvania, Virginia and South Carolina, respectively, not exceeding two clerks, at the rate of five hundred dollars per annum, each; the aggregate of the compensations for clerks employed by either of the said commissioners, to be apportioned among them at his discretion: And that there be annually allowed in lieu of clerk hire, to the Commissioner of Loans in the state of New Hampshire, three hundrd and fifty dollars; to the Commissioner of Loans in the state of Rhode Island, four hundred dollars; to the Commissioner of Loans in the state of New Jersey, three hundred dollars; and to the Commissioner of Loans in the state Maryland, two hundred and fifty dollars.

JONATHAN DAYTON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JAMES ROSS,
President of the Senate pro tempore.

Approved, March 2, 1799.

JOHN ADAMS,
President of the United States.

AN ACT

To revive and continue in force, certain parts of the "Act for the relief and protection of American seamen," and to amend the same.

Sec. 1. BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the first, second and third sections of the act, intituled "An act for the relief and protection of American seamen," shall be and hereby are revived and continued in force for one year.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of State shall be, and hereby is required to lay before Congress, within ten days after the commencement of each ordinary session, and annual statement, containing an abstract of all the returns made to him, by the collectors of the different ports, pursuant to the said act, and of the communications received by him, from the agents employed by virtue of the same, in foreign countries.

JONATHAN DAYTON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JAMES ROSS,

For the expence of medicines, hospital stores, &c. the sum of forty-two thousand, seven hundred and fifty dollars:

For the support of the revenue cutters, the sum of one hundred and seventeen thousand, five hundred and ninety-one dollars, and ninety-two cents.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That for the support of the marine corps, during the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine, there be, and hereby is appropriated the sum of two hundred and thirty-seven thousand, seven hundred and eighty-eight dollars, and thirty-eight cents; that is to say:

For pay and rations for the said corps, the sum of one hundred and seventy-nine thousand, seven hundred and ninety-eight dollars:

For cloathing, the sum of twenty-nine thousand, five hundred and ninety-four dollars, and eighty-seven cents:

For military stores, the sum of twenty-five thousand, nine hundred and fifty-one dollars, and fifty-one cents:

For contingent expences, the sum of four hundred and twenty dollars:

For bounties and premiums, the sum of two thousand and twenty-four dollars.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That for completing the vessels now building, the purchase of arms and military stores for the same, and for contingent expences relative thereto, the sum of one million, four thousand five hundred and four dollars, and twenty-four cents, shall be, and hereby is appropriated.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the aforesaid appropriations shall be paid out of any monies in the treasury of the United States, not otherwise appropriated.

The frigate now building at this port by the subscriptions of the merchants, and to be called the City of Philadelphia, is expected to be launched in all the present month. Her lower decks are laid, and the workmen will finish coppering her in the course of this week. Adepts in architecture, agree in reporting her to be the handsomest model in the United States. Her head, which is an Hercules with his attendant emblems, has lately been put up;—a very handsome piece of sculpture—tho' we question the iggitimacy of one of the emblems, which is the Roman fasces, in the left hand of the figure, intended to represent the American Union.

A few evenings since, as Charles Heatley, Esq. and Mr. Nicholas Holyday, were returning from town to their residences on Masters' estate, they were waylaid and assaulted by a gang of United Irishmen and other partisans of M'Kean. The former gentleman was cruelly beaten, and the latter narrowly escaped with his life. One of the villains concerned in the commission of this outrage has been apprehended.

Two democratic ruffians lately seized on and assaulted an English gentleman who resides near the Falls of Schuylkill. They have both been prosecuted and bound over.

A gang of United Irishmen, to the number of forty, principally laborers in the neighboring quarries, lately attacked with clubs and bludgeons, a body of militia, assembled at a regimental parade in Delaware county, and beat and maimed a number of the soldiers. It is a laughable circumstance, that the persons who suffered most severely in this affray, from the violence of the assailants, happened to be men of the same kidney.

Extract of a letter from Captain Alexander Murray, of the Insurgente, dated Lisbon, September 16, 1799.

"I shall immediately leave this place to cruize off Cadiz and Algeziras, and from there to Madeira, where I hear our commerce has been greatly distressed by French cruisers.

"I had 30 days passage to this port, but could have been here in three weeks, but for chasing every thing we saw, all of which we overhauled, except one vessel which we lost sight of in the night. Since passing the Azores, we have boarded 30 vessels of different nations, but the greater part British, and met with but one British ship of war, from whence you may judge of the unprotected state of their trade, as well as our own in those seas. I am told here, that vast numbers of corvettes and privateers have issued from the ports in France, since the fleets got into Brest. I hope we shall be able to give a good account of some of them."

BALTIMORE, November 5.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Havvnna to a merchant in this city, dated October 15.

"The American commerce in this quarter has remained unprotected for these three months past, not a single government vessel having been here since that time. There are three or four French privateers sitting out here for the express purpose of capturing Americans. We cannot divine the cause why government have not sent any of their cruisers here, as the property imported here from the United States of America, is more valuable than the commerce from the United States to all the other islands together."

BOSTON, October 31.

Mr. John Geyer, who arrived last evening from Halifax, in the Swedish brig Minerva, has very politely furnished us with a Halifax paper of the 17th inst. containing under the London date of Sept. 9, the British official account of the battle of Novi; it does not differ in any thing essential, from the account, received via Hamburgh, already published. Nothing further on the subject of the expedition to Holland, is mentioned in this paper.

From the East Indies.

The Aurora, Capt. Spriggs, bound from Gibralter to Baltimore, spoke, in lat. 39, with the Danish East India company ship, the Courier, from Calcutta, which place she left the middle of May, when official accounts had arrived that a decisive action had taken place between the armies of Tippoo Sultan and the British, in which the latter had entirely defeated Tippoo, who lost his life in the action—his country was surrendered to the British, and PEACE is again restored to India, with a great extent of territory and revenue added to the British possessions.

PROVIDENCE, October 31.

The Honourable Judge Elsworth and Governor Davie, two of the commissioners to treat with the French republic, arrived in town last evening, from New York, and we learn they proceed to day to Newport, to embark on board the United States frigate for France.

[From the "Virginia Federalist," one of the most respectable federal papers in the United States]

RICHMOND, October 12.

From a conviction that a considerable part of the captures of American vessels, said to have been made by the British, are fabricated for the purpose of perpetuating ancient animosities, and from the difficulty of distinguishing the true from the false, we have hitherto refrained from publishing any. There are however some so well authenticated, that longer silence would appear like approbation.

To swell the catalogue of abuses, there are also accounts of recent insults and enormities committed by them, which no circumstance or situation can palliate, and which cannot easily be disproved. Of this description is the case of Capt. Giles, of the schooner Betsey, of Beverly, in the state of Massachusetts.

This insulted and lacerated American seaman, in a plain unlettered style, had entered a protest respecting his treatment on board the British ship of war Daphne, and transmitted it to the government of his country, authenticated by his own, and the concomitant testimony of his mate and two of his crew. By this it appears that he was causelessly and inhumanly flogged for the space of thirty minutes by the boatswain, frequently knocked down by the captain, (who acted as an auxiliary) and finally returned to his own vessel unable to stand. The offence of which he had been guilty, was his daring to to address the lieutenant of the Daphne by the familiar title of "friend."

How is he answered, and what the prospect presented by his appeal?

He is informed by the secretary of state (for the reply amounts to nothing else) that an ex-parte examination had taken place on board the Constellation frigate, and that the British captain had there denied to captain Truxton, upon his solitary honour, what Giles, his mate, and two mariners, assert upon their oaths—that therefore his representation of facts was untrue, and the treatment which he had received such as he merited.

We will not presume that the impressions of Mr. Pickering, as evidenced on this occasion, are dissimilar to those which would have been made on any other person, placing, as he did, implicit confidence in the narrative of captain Truxton, and his eulogies on the Briton; but highly as we venerate his character, we cannot acquiesce in inferences, contravening evidence, glaringly preponderating in favour of the veracity of Giles.

Peace with all nations is certainly desirable—and there is so great a variety of fictitious and high-coloured accounts of British cruelties published in anti-federal papers, for the purpose of destroying the existing harmony between the two nations, as renders indispensible the strictest scrutiny even into those the most formally substantiated; but peace with national degradation is neither enviable nor honourable, and such atrocities as this call for reparation.

The case of Carter, in the harbour of Kingston, in the Island of Jamaica, is nearly similar in its outlines, and precisely so in its effects. In both instances American seamen are barbarously flogged on board of British ships, by the mandates of British captains, whose vengeance, unappeased by the failure of one man's strength in the business, ordered it to be recommenced and continued by another, till the blood of the sufferers ran in rivulets. In that which occured in Jamaica, it was jocosely denominated a dram—derision was superadded to cruelty and the character of a savage fully examplified in the conduct of an Englishman.

The recital of these truths was due to our own feelings, and those of our insulted, abused, and mangled countrymen. If it affords them any consolation to know, that the words of a British captain is not (by some of their fellow-citizens at least) deemed as sacred and authentic as their oaths, we shall have felt for once the value of a situation of which enables us to transmit the assurance in a way which perhaps may reach them.

[The foregoing article comes to my hands thro' the medium of the Salem Gazette, one, among the very few public prints in America, that are respectable either for talents or consistency of principles: by him the Italic lines are prefixed.

I mean to take occasion, from this circumstance, to remark, that in the declaration of these sentiments by the above Federal Editors, we have a new evidence of the jealousy entertained by the friends of government, on the subject of their country's honor. The federal party, indeed, are the only description of persons who entertain any real feeling on this score, as abundantly appears from an appeal to the past. In the differences which preceded the treaty, it was the federal party which advocated a repulsive policy—it was the federal party who fortified the harbors, laid on the embargo, raised the provisional army and built the frigates. Much and loud clamor was heard from the democrats, but clamor was all. They would hearken to no measures for backing that clamor with effective force; but while they demanded war, persisted most obstinately in withholding all means of carrying on war. The policy of wise and thinking federalists, being bottomed on their convictions of right and wrong, will be always the same, and is accordingly found to be uniform, under the various circumstances which emerge.

The machinations of the Democrats being all directed by a determined design to get the destinies of the country under their control, will be found in every instance to be limited in their scope, with an admirable discrimination and judgment to that precise object—thus they do not wish for a war with Great Britain, because they wisely see in it, the overthrow of their power: but they would drive things to the extremest pitch of exasperation between the two countries; they would excite the greatest possible degree of rage and hatred against Great-Britain, in order to effect a reflux of the popular sentiment in favor of France, to the infinite advancement of their own views.—Whoso believes the Democrats to be desirous of war with England is grossly deceived. Do they not incessantly quarrel with every measure that could enable us to meet such an event? Do they not attack, by every means, the Army and Navy? Are they not incessantly attempting even to foment popular insurrections against those establishments?

Ought not these impressive facts, so glaringly and constantly renewed before our eyes, to awaken us at last, on the verge of so great evils as at present threaten, to a sense of the actual views of the Jacobins.

Indeed, nothing else, but a conviction of the real bent of their designs, can enable us ever to combat them with success. Thro' ignorance of these, many weak and foolish men directly co-operate with them, and become in fact, more dangerous instruments of mischief than the democrats themselves. To this class unquestionably belong those two Printers at Boston, who have so frequently given currency to envious and malicious publications against the Government and subjects of Great Britain, one of whom was lately called in the Gazette of Mr. Benjamin Russel, a villain, a rascal, a pirate, &c. &c. The very man honoured with these courteous epithets, I am well assured, has ever distinguished himself by the most friendly dispositions towards this country, where he has numerous and very respectable connections.]

Scraps from late London Papers.

The learned men whom Buonaparte carried with him will not obtain greater favour from the Turks than his captive generals. The modern Mahometans are not a whit better disposed to the makers of books than Omar was formerly to books themselves.—Omar condemned the books to the flames, and Ghezzar Pacha will probably decide that authors as richly merit decapitation. Their learning will avail them nothing, but according to Mr. Burke's famous, and often misrepresented expression, "will be cast into the mire, and trodden down under the hoofs of a swinish multitude."

Some think that the system of terror is very likely to be renewed in France, because the directory bestow a great number of places upon the partisans of this system. Probably however, the directory act from sound policy. They know well the effect of places in taming the fury of violent patriots. The directory justly expect that "Cerberus having received his sop will growl no more!"

Although Buonaparte had burnt his camp before Acre, does not appear that his troops had wholly left its environs. He still seems to linger in the neighbourhood, and before sir Sydney has done with him we shall have more last words!

Cardinal Ruffo, according to some accounts, has an eye to the Popedom, and it must be confessed that he has hitherto fought his way with great bravery, and may get the Papal chair by right of conquest!

A very extraordinary circumstance happened last week:—A basket was cut from behind a carriage, as it was going up the Haymarket: fellow, as he was carrying it off, just on entering Piccadilly, slipped, and threw down the basket, which burst open, and from whence sprung a large baboon, who, profiting of the accident, ran away as fast as possible

The German Princess who fell in love with the fidler at Munich seems to have been of the Duke's mind in Shakespeare's comedy:

"If music be the food of love, play on."

The city of Verona, out of gratitude to general Kray, for saving it from the French, by the important victories on the 26th and 30th of March, is going to make a present to that officer of one dozen of golden knives, forks and spoons, and three dozen of golden tea spoons. The bust of that general in alabaster, will also be erected on a pillar on the parade of that city.

The number of duels might perhaps be regretted, if the harmlessness of them did not lessen our apprehensions. In time, perhaps, this may be reduced to a science, and honor be sufficiently protected by the theory of murder instead of the practice.

Private letters received from Munich mention that the young electress dowager of Bavaria, daughter of the archduke Ferdinand, and cousin to the emperor, has fallen in love with a young musician belonging to the court, of the name of Eck, and is absolutely determined to make him her husband. She has already declared her intention in writing to renounce all her titles, &c.

It is farther added, that the princess has been pregnant for these four months past. The count De Sillern, the Imperial minister at Munich, has taken her away from Munich, and it is believed that she will be placed in a convent..

"Daracue speaking of the liberty of the press called the newspapers political and literary vehicles. "This idea," says the Ami des Lois, "has furnished a wag with that of baptising all the Paris newspapers thus:—The Redacteur, La Messagerie: L'Ami des Lois, Voiture de la Cour; Les Petites Affiches, Le Fourgon; Le Postillon de Calais, Voiture Coupee, Le Messager des Relations Exterieures, Un Fiacre; Le Publiciste, Une Berline; La Feuille des Spectacles, Une Disobligeante; Le Journal des Hommes Libres, Un Diable; Le Journal de Sablier, La Diligence; Le Moniteur. Le Coche; Le Journal de Paris, Voiture de Remise; La Gazette de France, Une Dormeuse; L'Ami du Peuple, Un Pot de Chambre."

Though Buonaparte has survived all the deaths with which he had been threatened in Egypt and Syria, he will probably die of vexation to hear what havoc has been made among his conquests in Italy!

A change of men is expected in Holland similar to that which has taken place in France. Since the Dutch became Republicans, they take all the fashions from Paris, and when the French Directory go mad in white sattin, they go mad in white linen!

The French appear to have acquired great skill in training lions and other wild beasts. It is surprising they cannot manage their Directors better.

The expedition into Egypt seems a bone of contention among the French Ministers. Notwithstanding the splendour of its outside, and the promising glories of the first months, no one seems inclined to allow that he had any hand in it. Future historians, and investigators may probably be puzzled to discover the Author of the pursuits of Buonaparte, and argue on the subject with all the virulence and malevolence which secrets not worth knowing generally create.

The Parisians are accused of gaiety midst the corruption of their ministers and the defeat of their Armies. Such feelings are certainly unseasonable, but they may plead their right to laugh at amusements for which they pay so handsomely.

If the Parisians take it in their heads to introduce Suwarrow into an Opera, they should make it a serious one, and perhaps the General, should things go on as they have began, may perform his own character himself.

The French Directory have insinuated to the Dutch, that they must now leave them to defend themselves. As the Dutch are in the habit of calculating the profit and loss of transactions, it is very probable that they will discover that it would be very idle to fight upon mere speculation. They have already paid for the protection of the French, and are entitled to be defended gratis.

In the way of negative success the French Admiral Bruix will rank at the head of their navy. To have been at sea three months and not to have been beaten, is what none of their Admirals have for a long time to boast.

The new French Directory, like the old, call loudly for money as the sovereign remedy for all the diseases of the state. Their prescription, with a slight variation, is the same with that of the Physician in Molier's comedy, "Mais si malavia opiniatria non vult se gartire, quid illi facere? de l'argent —postea de l'argent; ensuite beaucoup d'argent." It is the standing specific of all State Physicians.

If the Parisians are indeed so exhausted by the oppression of their government, their gaiety and expence would be surprising did we not consider the various motives from which profusion arises. Some spend and enjoy themselves because they have plenty of money, others because they have so little left that it is not worth the keeping.

The humanity which Sir Sidney Smith has shown towards the French prisoners at Acre, is greatly to his credit, not only because, had he cut off their heads and cropped their ears like Ghezar Pacha, he would have been extolled to the skies by the anti-jacobin club, but by this very humanity, he has had the courage to brave the resentment of those people whom his manly conduct is very likely to offend.

In answer to the charges of rapacity made against him, Rewbell said, that he had retired from the first magistracy in Europe, with a slender competency. Since that period, it it has been a common thing at Paris, in wishing a man a good fortune, to wish him the "competency of Rewbell."

In Vienna, we are told, that a newspaper is published in Greek.

AT a Court of Common Pleas held at Union Town, for the county of Fayette, the fourth Monday of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine, before the Judges of the same court, on the petition of John Willson, praying that the act of Assembly, providing that the person of a debtor shall not be liable to imprisonment for debt after delivering up his estate for the use of his creditors, may be extended to him. The Court appoint the first day of next term, to hear the petitioner and his creditors, and order that he give his creditors public notice hereof, in Fenno's Philadelphia paper, and in Yundt and Brown's Baltimore paper, for one week, ending at least four weeks before the day of hearing; and that he also give to John Gillespie and Jacob Everhart personal notice in writing, to be served on them, at least fifteen days previous to the hearing. At September term, this order was continued to the first day of December term.

By the Court,

EPHRAIM DOUGLASS,
Prothonotary.

WHEREAS

Matthew Mc.Connell, Esq.

BY deed dated the 16th of May, 1799, granted and assigned to the subscribers, 55,018 acres of land on the waters of Sugar creek, in the county of Luzerne and state of Pennsylvania, upon trust, to sell and dispose of the same, and apply the proceeds (after satisfying all such just and legal claims as may be due on said lands) to the payment of such notes as the said Matthew M'Connell has drawn in favor of a certain Joseph Thomas, or that the said Joseph Thomas has drawn in favor of, and are indorsed by the said M. M'Connell, and which are mentioned in the schedule annexed to the deed of trust, aforesaid:—

Provided, That the holders of said notes shall, on or before the 16th day of November next, execute to him a full discharge and acquittance, or render up the said notes, and the balance, if any, to the holders of any of the said notes who shall not have made such discharge or rendered up said notes, as aforesaid, pro rata, according to their respective claims and demands.

This public notice is given of the said assignment, that those who are interested may avail themselves of the terms therein contained.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

March 11th, 1799.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

Pursuant to the act of Congress passed on the 1st day of June, one thousand, seven hundred and ninety six, entitled "an act regulating the grants of land appropriated for military services, and for the society of United Brethren for propagating the gospel among the Heathen;" and the act supplementary to the said recited act passed on the second day of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninety nine——to wit:

I.

THAT the tract of Land herein after described, namely, "beginning at the North West corner of the seven ranges of townships, and running thence fifty miles due south, along the western boundary of the said ranges;—thence due West to the Main Branch of the Scioto river; thence up the Main Branch of the said river to the place where the Indian boundary line crosses the same;—thence along the said boundary line to the Tuscaroras branch of the Muskingum river at the crossing place above Fort Lawrence; thence down the said river, to the point where a line run due west from the place of beginning, will intersect the said river; thence along the line so run to the place of beginning;" has been divided into townships of five miles square, and fractional parts of townships; and that plats and surveys of the said townships and fractional parts of townships are deposited in the offices of the Register of the Treasury and Surveyor General, for the inspection of all persons concerned.

II.

The holders of such warrants as have been or shall be granted for military services performed during the late war, are required to present the same to the Register of the Treasury, at some time prior to the twelfth day of February in the year, one thousand eight hundred, for the purpose of being registered; No registry will however be made of any less quantity than a quarter township, or four thousand acres.

III.

The priority of location of the warrants which may be presented and registered in manner aforesaid, prior to the 12th day of February in the year one thousand eight hundred, will immediately after the said day, be determined by lot, in the mode described by the act first recited.

IV.

The holders of registered warrants, shall on Monday the 17th day of February, in the year 1800, in the order of which the priority of location shall be determined by lot as aforesaid, personally, or by their agents, designate in writing at the office of the Register of the Treasury, the particular quarter townships elected by them respectively, and such of the said holders as shall not designate their locations on the said day, shall be postponed in locating such warrants to all other holders of registered warrants.

V.

The holders of warrants for military services sufficient to cover one or more quarter townships or tracts of four thousand acres each; shall, at any time after Monday the 17th day of February, 1800 and prior to the first day of January, 1802, be allowed to register the said warrants in manner aforesaid, and forthwith to make locations therefor on any tract or tracts of land not before located.

VI.

All warrants or claims for lands on account of military services, which shall not be registered and located before the first day of January, 1802, are by the supplementary act of Congress herein before recited, passed on the second day of March, 1799, declared to be forever barred.

Given under my hand at Philadelphia, the day and year above mentioned.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE time being fixed on, when the MILITARY LAND (commonly called Knox's) WARRANTS, granted to the United States' army, are to be registered and located,—the subscribers have explored that tract of land on which those warrants are to be laid; with a view, and for the purpose of offering their services as locaters.

We take the liberty of suggesting, "that weare at least as well acquainted with the situation, quality of the soil, &c. of the different townships in the aforesaid tract, as any other person:" this will, perhaps, appear more clearly, by observing, that WILLIAM C. SCHENK assisted in running the Indian boundary line; at which time he considerably traversed that tract: he also assisted in surveying and laying it off into townships, and at other times ranged over it, to gain information. But to obtain a more complete and accurate knowledge, we have lately spent between two and three months, with several assistants, in particularly examining the different townships and quarter townships; by which means we have acquired an accurate knowledge of the whole district.—We now offer our services to the public, as Locaters, with assurances that we will locate every persons warrants intrusted to us to the best advantage, agreeably to their rights of location, which is to be determined according to law. For our services we demand the one equal tenth part, either in lands or warrants, when we locate a full tract, of four thousand acres or more, for one person or firm; the land to be taken in a square, at a corner of the tract; which corner is to be equitably determined before the time of location.—The one equal sixth part, in cash or warrants, when we connect and locate any amount less than four thousand acres. We will be in Philadelphia from December next, until after the time of location, to transact this business. Any person wishing to satisfy himself farther, will please to call on us, by letter, (postage paid) or otherwise; when due attention will be paid, and such vouchers may be seen as we have to offer, which we hope will be satisfactory.

MARTIN BAUM,
WILLIAM C. SCHENCK.

To the Holders of

MILITARY LAND WARRANTS.

THE Subscriber having lately returned from viewing the land, surveyed and appropriated to satisfy the land warrants, issued by the secretary at war, to the officers and soldiers of the late continental army; and having made arrangements with Mr. James Johnson, of Chester county, Pennsylvania, who he left on the land, and who with the assistance of an intelligent inhabitant of that county, will spend five months in exploring the different sections. He will take regular notes, descriptive of the soil, situation, and natural advantages attached to each section in the whole survey—which notes will be placed in the hands of the subscriber previous to the period for locating, thereby enabling him to make the most advantageous locations the priority will admit.

He offers his service to the holders of land warrants of the above description, throughout the United States, to receive their warrants, class them, (as no less quantity than 4000 acres will be registerd at the office of the treasury) have them registered agreeable to law, and attend to make the location at the the time appointed in February next.

For transacting the business, one tenth part of the land specified in the warrants will be required, and no other charge, except the postage of letters. All warrants forwarded and letters addressed to the subscriber, at No. 3, Penn-street, Philadelphia, will receive immediate attention.

TERMS

Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,

FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE

JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,

FROM THE COMMENCEMENT

Of the American War, in 1774, to the present time,

INCLUDING

The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now first permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat type, in large octave.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in size, paper, and binding, will be observed throughout the work; so that, while the subscribers become possessed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to subscribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound, but, as the publisher does not intend to print manmore than the number subscribed for, a considerable rise on the price may be expected to non-subscribers.

Each volume will contain about one third less of letter-press than the original edition; but, as the publisher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot ascertain the number of volumes which will comprise the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subscribers will have it at their option, either to subscribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the present time, or to those only of the Old Congress prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are lost in darkness and obscurity, owing to a carelessness, in the succeeding generation, to preserve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in these rude ages, being called off from their domestic concerns, to engage in wars and conquest. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been transmitted to our days? Time, that destroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almost inestimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their assistance in transmitting to posterity the labours of their ancestors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will show the support it has already acquired:

We, therefore, respectfully solicit, as the publication is necessary to be disseminated among public bodies, that Congress will, in their wisdom render him such additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, so that your Memorialists may be enabled to purchase copies of that record for themselves.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the short and pleasant road of Bustleton, Newtown, Scotch Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populousness of the country through which it passes, with sundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in winter and summer, has been clearly ascertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is several miles shorter than the old road, but this is amongst the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodness of the road and the levelness of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little dust in summer, which circumstance, added to the beauty of the country, and a considerable proportion of shade, must always render travelling in the latter season peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure starts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, opposite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth street. It goes through Frankford to Bustleton, where it stops to Breakfast; from Bustletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millstone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it stops at Springfield to breakfast, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it starts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For seats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee house, to A. Mathieu, corner of Nassau and John streets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich street, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad street.

Fare for passengers, Five Dollars.
Way passengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each passenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a passenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With respect to packages sent on without passengers, the proprietors presume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of stages, they think must meet with general approbation, They pledge themselves to make good every package on the following conditions. The person who delivers the package at the office shall see it entered in the stage-book, for which entry he shall pay 6 cents; he will then state the value of the package, and pay (exclusive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as insurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for instance, if he estimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent. and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar insurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few persons it is presumed, will dislike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himself of this security or not. But the proprietors think it right to state very explicitly, that they will be responsible for the safe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an insurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the distribution of the route, the greatest care has bren taken to fix on such places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the most reasonable rates The stages are well equipped furnished with fleet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent sober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themselves live at the different towns and villages where the stages will stop, so that the conduct of the persons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care also to see that the passengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no sort of chicanery or insolence is practised upon them; in short, they have spared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best line of stages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every passenger has found the road to surpass very far all that has been said of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviou of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns spoken of with the highest satisfaction.
